Any Ideas?

You may remember that our champion poetry performer, James, won £100 for the school last term. We have yet to spend the money and at the school council meeting this week, James and the councilors decided to ask if anyone had any good ideas as to what to spend this on. It should be something special for the school that we will be able to keep, use and enjoy for many years to come. An ideas box is on the circular table by Jane's office. All ideas—from parents and children—are welcome.

VALUES DISPLAY

Well done to Justin and Rupert for being awarded our first two golden leaves for showing our school values. Our values display is beginning to grow—please do come and have a look.

CLUBS

Thank you to all for signing up to clubs. Please can we remind you that only children who have signed up in advance can attend Mr Jarvis's clubs and the Wednesday staff clubs. Also, if your child has signed up, they have committed to attend, so please do encourage this. As Miss Harris had no 'takers' for her Italian club, she will run a singing group instead with a particular focus on learning songs to lead worship on Fridays. Please see Jane to sign up.

Can you help?

Running club on Wednesdays is so popular that Mr Jarvis needs another adult to support him.

If you think you would be able volunteer and help on Wednesdays after school from 3.15 to 4.15 until the end of term, please speak to Jane or Mr Jarvis.

GRAND BAKE SALE

Next Friday, 26th January after school, the School Council are holding a bake sale to raise money to initiate some new projects in school. If you could bake something and bring it in next Friday in the morning, it would be greatly appreciated. Remember your money!!

Thankyou, Jemima—Chair of School Council

Cornwall School Games Badminton Festival

Congratulations to James, Chloe, Jemima and Isaac for their fantastic effort in reaching the next level of the Cornwall School Games Badminton Festival. The next games will take place on 29th June.
