

Homework

This is your writing homework. Once again, here are six writing homework activities for you to choose from to complete. But... it's the spring term now, so expectations are HIGHER than before. Will you impress Mr Cornish? Each week you must choose one written task, handing your completed work in by each Thursday. What task will you choose first? You only need to complete five of the tasks - you can leave the one you most despise!

Struggling to think of a structure? Check out the cheat sheets on the school website.

Task 1: Star Wars (or movie based) Everyone loves movies! Your task, should you choose to accept it, is to write a set of instructions on how to build a new robot. You may include numbered steps and photographs.	Task 2: Fidget Spinners (or any toy) Love them or hate them, you likely have a favourite memory linked to them. If not, choose a different memory. Write a recount of your favourite memory.
Task 3: Board Games Persuasive Text. Did you play a board game at Christmas? Now, persuade a friend to play the game too. This could be a video, but make sure you write a plan before you record!	Task 4: Uniform Leaflet Discussion Text Leaflet. Should children have to wear uniform? Your mission is to design a leaflet to share the pros and the cons of children wearing a uniform.
Task 5: Shelter Box Letter. Not everyone is as fortunate as we are. Over Christmas, many children around the world were living in poverty. Write a letter to one of these children, giving them hope for the future. Reflect on how fortunate you are in your own life.	Task 6: Revision Poster. Design an A3 poster to share with a friend. On this poster, share all the ways you can be a great learner. How can you revise really effectively? What are the best ways to learn at home? Can you think of really fun ways to prepare for SATs?
